

NATIVE AMERICAN INDIAN ART CLASSES AND WORKSHOPS

PRESENTED BY

ANAYA BARRERA

Anaya Barrera is a Native American Indian of the Mescalero Apache Tribe. He is a distant descendent of Geronimo. Anaya is a practicing Medicine Man. He lives in Catlett, VA. and has opened a studio at Verdun Adventure Bound. He is available for lessons on the Native American way of life, as well as giving classes and workshops on Native American Art. Anaya has extensive experience in Native American art including Apache, Lakota, Navajo, and the Inuit Tribe of Alaska.

All classes and workshops are to be schedule through Verdun Adventure Bound at 540-937-4920 or by emailing admin@verdunadventurebound.org

SESSION TYPES AND FEES

Individual Session – One Hour	$35.00 plus supplies
Semi-private Session – Two Hours (Limit 3 participants)	$25.00 per participant plus supplies
Group Session – Two Hours (*10 Person minimum)	$ 10.00 per participant plus supplies

*If less than 10 participants an adjustment in time or cost may be necessary.

Sessions will begin at a novice level with follow-up advanced sessions being offered at subsequent times.

SESSION TOPICS

Bracelet	High Top Moccasins
Buckskin Leggings	Medicine Bags
Chokers	Shawl
Cloth Leggings	Shields (approx 14")
Dream Catchers	Talking Feather
Hats

WORKSHOP TYPES AND FEES

Three – four hour sessions	$250.00 including supplies
----------------------------	-----------------------------

WORKSHOP TOPICS

Drum Workshop	Registration Fee $100.00
---------------	---------------------------